What started as a hobby and foray into self-sufficiency has since become a passion. Once a retired dairy farm, this land is slowly being revived into a working vegetable, poultry, Christmas tree, and livestock farm.

Through our effort to become more self-sufficient, Jennifer has honed her baking skills and people visiting for lunch began asking if she would bake a cake or pie for special occasion or dinner rolls for the weekend picnic. Now we are happy to offer some of her secret recipes and traditional baked items for your enjoyment.
